Procedure No. 600-010-001, Preparation of the Authorization/Official Construction Cost Estimate and Contract Bid Review Package

DEFINITION:

District: District and Turnpike Enterprise

GENERAL:

Bidding irregularities which are discovered by the Central/District Contracts Administration Office and the Central/District Estimates Office, must be reviewed by the Technical Review Committee in accordance with the criteria established in Section 2 (a-h) below. Each contract is reviewed separately based on its unique irregularities.
When the Technical Review Committee determines that the low bid is not acceptable, a review of each successive bid proposal may be conducted until an acceptable bid is found. The contract is then recommended for award to the contractor with the lowest acceptable bid. If no acceptable bid is found, all bids will be rejected and the proposal will be considered for re-advertisement. Contracts without bidding irregularities in Section 2(a-h) that are within automatic award guidelines shall be reviewed only for mathematical unbalancing. Contracts are automatically awarded to the low bidder unless the bid is determined to be materially unbalanced. Federal Highway Administration’s (FHWA) definition of materially unbalanced is when there is reasonable doubt that award to the low bidder will result in the lowest cost to the state.
